

New member of the supervisory board: Seven Senders brings delivery expert Achim Dünnwald onto the board

Berlin, 13 July 2020 - The supervisory board of the Berlin delivery platform Seven Senders has a new member: Dr. Achim Dünnwald has been a member of the board since January. With him, the company is gaining additional personnel for its top supervisory body. After increasing its parcel shipping volume by over 80 percent in 2019, Seven Senders plans to continue its growth course with the goal of becoming the leading delivery platform for parcel shipping in Europe. Achim Dünnwald brings a wealth of experience in the parcel delivery business, which will be instrumental in helping the company to successfully implement its growth strategy.

Achim Dünnwald is currently employed as Chief Operating Officer at British Royal Mail. As a decision-maker in international dispatch management, the 51-year-old has extensive expertise in the requirements placed on carriers in the international e-commerce environment and in the handling of critical interfaces in the supply chain. Prior to this, he worked for six years at Deutsche Post DHL Group, most recently as CEO DHL Paket Deutschland and DHL Parcel Europe and before that as CEO Mail Communication and Mail International. In connection with DHL's international activities, he sat on the supervisory board of Relais Colis in France, among others. From 2000 to 2012, he worked at McKinsey, where he was a partner in charge of the German logistics sector and the global Post, Express, Parcel Practice and worked for numerous logistics companies in Europe, North America and the Middle East.

"In times of booming online trade with high growth rates, especially in international business, Seven Senders is in an excellent position to revolutionize the European parcel market," explains Achim Dünnwald. "I am delighted to contribute to the success of the company as a new member of the supervisory board at Seven Senders."

"The growth course we have embarked on as a company and our service promise to guarantee customers the best possible shipping experience requires in-depth knowledge of the industry," comments Dr. Johannes Plehn, founder and CEO of Seven Senders. "We are therefore extremely pleased to welcome Achim Dünnwald to our board, a proven expert with an almost unprecedented level of experience in all aspects of the business model and its requirements".
